Briefly

Property taxes being collected

Real estate tax payments made prior to Sept. 1 for property in Granite City Township must be made directly to the Township Collector, City Hall, Room 2.

The county treasurer cannot process such payments; any payments mailed to him are forwarded to Granite City.

Normal office hours at City Hall are weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Taxes are also payable at any local bank.

For more information, the number is 452-6207.

Hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Donations of clothing, furniture and household goods are accepted during these hours. Pickup service for furniture and appliances is by appointment only.

Tip of the hat

Angela Brown of Granite City was crowned queen of the "Little Miss of America" pageant July 11 at the Quality Inn in Collinsville. She will compete next April in Springfield at the state pageant.

Angela has competed and won in several different pageants, and holds the titles: Miss Lily of the Valley, Miss Merry Christmas, Miss Heart of the Midwest, Universal Charm Queen, and All Stars Queen.

Angela, 16, a junior at Granite City Senior High School, has been active in pageants only 2½ years. She is a member of Glitter Girls Modeling and Dance Company, owned and operated by Rhonda Vest-Nolan.

Entrepreneur Thebeau dies

Restaurant owner was 49

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

It was dreary and overcast late Monday morning. Rain drizzled intermittently as employees slowly began to trickle in to Ralph and Charlie's in Pontoon Beach.

David Thebeau, the restaurant's owner, had died Sunday night in his Fairview Heights home. He was 49.

Li Dale Fredeking of the Fairview Heights Police Department said employees had been unable to contact Thebeau Sunday evening.

Thebeau's daughter, Annette Boken, who lived next door to his home without signs of life at about 8:30 p.m. He was pronounced dead at 9 p.m. Sunday, apparently of heart failure, Fredeking said.

Friends, family and employees gathered at the highly successful restaurant Monday, providing support and encouragement for each other, many in a state of disbelief.

Restaurant employees said Thebeau was a good friend. "He was like a friend rather than a boss," an employee said. "He was always willing to help out in any way he could."

Ralph and Charlie's in Pontoon Beach opened in August 1988, 14 months after a fire destroyed the popular restaurant in Madison.

Don Bridick, chief of security at the Madison County Courthouse and a friend of Thebeau, was police chief in the city of Madison when Ralph and Charlie's enjoyed its heyday there.

"I guess what I remember best about Dave is his kindness," Bridick said. "He was a compassionate man. It seems like anyone could come to him and talk to him about their problems."

Pontoon Beach Village Clerk Mary Warren agreed. She said Thebeau was much more than just a prominent business owner.

"He's done a lot for the village," Warren said. "He's always been supportive."

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Granite City Police Sgt. John Apperson's hearing reconvened Monday night, but will not reach a conclusion for at least another four weeks more than three years after he initially requested it.

The entire three hours of testimony and argument Monday night took place in closed session. The hearing will reconvene Sept. 21.

On Sept. 15, 1989, Apperson requested a hearing before the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to protest a written reprimand issued by Police Chief Don Knight on Sept. 13, 1989, relating to Apperson's alleged participation in the "pulling" of a speeding ticket March 31, 1989.

In a separate but related law

suit filed against the city, Apperson alleges that "in fact the allegation of ticket fixing was untrue and merely used to cover up conduct on the part of others by the chief of police."

After several protracted legal proceedings, Apperson's hearing finally got under way July 27 of this year. But, after an hour-long open session and another hour and 15 minutes of testimony in closed session that evening, the

Mayors support referendum

Two local mayors hope voters send a message to state legislators: Stop passing the buck or come up with the bucks.

An advisory referendum on the November ballot will ask voters if they want the Legislature to halt "increasing property taxes due to unfunded mandates on local government."

Both Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse and Madison Mayor John Belloff said such mandates have become a real problem.

If passed, however, the referendum would only require that the Legislature draw up a constitutional amendment that would go before the voters in 1994.

Earlier this year, the House

Cruse

approved a constitutional amendment that would have required a three-fifths vote, rather than a simple majority, for any new bills that put new responsibilities on local government without providing money to pay for them. The measure failed in the Senate.

Cruse said unfunded state and federal mandates on cities and schools have become a "tremendous problem."

One example, Cruse said, is that the state increased its tipping fee on landfills, but put in a provision that allowed the landfill operators to increase the fees charged customers — including cities — in order to cover the state fee.

"The state is getting its money, but it might as well have taken it right out of our pocket," Cruse said. "It's the local person who gets stuck picking up the tab on most of this stuff."

Regarding environmental protection, Cruse said (See MAYORS, Page 2A)

Minority instructors sought

By Jim Haverstick
Staff writer

In an effort to create a more culturally diverse atmosphere in classrooms, Belleville Area College will seek minority graduate students to work as part-time instructors.

Trustees unanimously approved a resolution on diversity at Wednesday night's board meeting.

Abuse Ted Farmer and Michael Bowen were absent from the meeting.

Lynn Sudan, vice president of Academic Affairs, said the resolution will enable the college to identify area minority graduate students that have the qualifications to teach at BAC.

"It is absolutely essential that the college represent the world we live in," said BAC President Joe Cipri. "We live in a multi-cultural and multi-racial environment."

Larry Friederich, personnel manager, said the college plans to ask the placement departments of local universities to steer minority graduate students toward BAC for employment.

The college presently has 13 minority individuals working as full-time faculty members out of 338 full-time faculty members.

"We are not going for a quota system here," Friederich said. "We just realize that our staff does not reflect the whole ethnic make-up of our community and we want to increase our number of minority faculty members."

Friederich said the college is focusing on filling the part-time positions with more minority instructors, because half of the full-time instructors began at the college part-time and were later promoted.

Unwanted dogs and cats are remembered at vigil

Jacob's owner had a baby, Snoopy cried all night and Stella was too big and hairy. For those reasons, the three dogs were taken to the Madison County Humane Society and were destroyed after no one adopted them.

Animal activists lighted candles Saturday night in memory of Jacob, Snoopy, Stella and thousands of unwanted cats and dogs just like them.

About 100 people attended the local observance, at the County Courthouse in Edwardsville, of the national Homeless Animal Day candlelight vigil.

Participants included representatives of the Madison County Humane Society, similar societies of Belleville and Granite City, the Animal Protection Association of St. Louis and the St. Louis Animal Rights Team.

"We are here to remember the 17 million animals who died last year because there were no homes for them all," said Ledy Vankavage, president of the Madison County Humane Society. "There are 187 other vigils being held tonight nationwide."

She described how animals are shoved into overcrowded gas chambers or injected with drugs at the county animal facility.

"There is no comfort in this sort of death," she said. "Unnecessary death is always painful. Unnecessary death is wasteful."

Between January and May this year, 1,013 dogs and 590 cats were killed in Madison County because there were no homes for them, Vankavage said.

Vankavage called for pet owners to spay or neuter their pets, work for humane laws, fight puppy mills and put backyard breeders out of business.

Gloves gotta come off for Horn, Talent race

Immediately before the tuna crown with croissant and fruit salad was served, the minister offered a benediction, one based on the prayer of St. Francis.

"Where there is hatred," he said, "let me sow love. Where there is darkness, light."

It was the perfect prayer for the occasion, which was the first of a series of debates between the two major candidates for Congress from Missouri's 2nd Congressional District.

Of all the races for all the offices in all the communities in the St. Louis area, this race holds the most potential for hatred and darkness. Connoisseurs of political black arts are looking to West and Northwest St. Louis County with glee. There's just so little common ground between the candidates you can't help but think this one could get very ugly.

You have the incumbent, Joan Kelly Horn, Democrat. Liberal. Female. Strong advocate of abortion rights. Taste for the jugular — her 54-vote victory over Jack Buechner two years ago is widely credited to a classic pigg-in-the-trench negative campaign ad.

Then there's the challenger, Jim Talent. Republican. Conservative. Male. Strongly anti-abortion. Earned a reputation as Minority Leader of the Missouri House as a guy with a knack for guerrilla tactics.

Both candidates have aggressive squads of grassroots shock troops. Horn's are veterans of the equal rights and pro-choice battles in Missouri; Talent's are suburban commandos and pro-life warriors. Between now and Nov. 3, these troops will bloody each other somewhere along I-70.

But on Day One of the campaign last week, things were mostly polite and refined. Maybe it was the blessing of St. Francis. Maybe it was kiwi fruit in the salad. Maybe because it is only August, for crying out loud, too early to spill blood on the tables at the Creve Coeur Country Club.

There was even some agreement.

"It's amazing how angry people are," Talent said.

"There is so much anger and anxiety out there," Horn said.

They got that right. You listen to people talk about the country, you can sense the hostility right away. The haves are worried that someone is going to get into their pockets and give what they worked for to someone who didn't. The have-nots are worried that they're going to be written off. It's us-and-them ugly out there.

Horn says it's because people don't have jobs. Talent says it's because government is taking too much from the people who do have jobs and the people who employ them.

Talent says people are alienated from the Congress because the Congress is spending too much of their money on servicing the debt and not worrying about balancing the budget. Horn says she's not alienated because she's only been there a year and a half and besides, she flies home every weekend and maintains only a tiny apartment in Washington. Talent says it doesn't make any difference how big her apartment is because she voted against the balanced budget amendment and besides, she stays in a Motel 6 when he's in Jefferson City.

Ah, enlightened public discourse.

Joan Horn says we can have it all — jobs, health care, paid family leave — as long as we get competitive with foreign markets. Jim Talent says we can't have any of that until we get government regulation under control and balance the budget. The federal government should, he said, cut everyone 5 to 10 percent and tell them to maintain the same level of service. It worked in Missouri, he claimed.

They went on like this for 45 minutes, agreeing on almost nothing, but doing it politely. This will no doubt change. You don't win elections these days by talking issues over tuna salad.

If I were Talent, I'd start suggesting Horn was a big-taxing liberal who was out of touch with the concerns of the middle class suburbanites who are worried about their children's future. If I were Horn, I'd suggest Talent is a tool of big business who's got no idea what real people are truly concerned about.

But that would be ugly. That would be sowing hatred, not love. That would be sowing darkness, not light. That would be October, not August.

Fire destroys garage

A fire that destroyed a garage in the 2200 block of Washington Avenue Monday afternoon was probably set, according to a police report.

The blaze, which ignited at about 12:15 p.m., also damaged a vacant building at the same address and another garage in the 2200 block of Iowa Street.

Residents of the area told police juveniles broke out several windows in the vacant building on Washington and often entered it and the garage.

An investigation into the matter continues.

Hearing

hearing was continued until Aug. 24.

All argument and testimony having been completed, the board was unwilling to make a decision Monday because, its members said, more deliberation and research are necessary.

The hearing will reconvene Sept. 21, when the board apparently will make a decision as to whether Knight had enough evidence to justify the written reprimand.

Melroy Hutnick, Apperson's attorney, questioned the delay. "I'm at a complete loss as to why the delay," Hutnick said following the meeting. "There was no evidence (presented) here."

Hutnick said Apperson testified Monday that Knight had personally told him the alleged "ticket fixing" was not the true reason for the reprimand, but that Knight issued it because Knight believed Apperson was looking for a "poison pen" to use against the wife of another officer.

Apperson has denied sending the letter.

Hutnick said that Knight, in a tape-recorded interview in Knight's office Sept. 5, 1989, questioned Apperson about the matter.

According to a transcript of the interview obtained by the Press-Record-Journal, the ticket was dismissed by the late Sgt. Joe Kastelic on March 31, 1989.

Although Apperson said in the interview that he asked Kastelic if "we could cut (the alleged speeder) some slack," Apperson never admitted having asked Kastelic to "pull" a ticket. Apperson said he was asking if the speeder could receive court supervision.

Knight also questioned Apperson about the alleged letter in the same interview, according to the transcript.

Hutnick said Knight may have violated Apperson's rights under the Uniform Peace Officers' Disciplinary Act.

The transcript shows that Knight denied Apperson's request to have an attorney present and denied his request to know who initiated the complaint against him.

Under the Act, such a procedure is allowed during an "informal inquiry" to determine if a formal investigation is warranted.

It is also allowed during questioning on matters "relating to minor infractions of agency rules which may be noted on the officer's record but which may not in themselves result in removal, discharge or suspension in excess of three days."

According to the Act, once a formal investigation is initiated, the accused officer is entitled to have an attorney present and to know who his accusers are.

Knight prefaced the interrogation by saying that the conversation was part of an informal inquiry.

According to the transcript, Knight had already interviewed at least two other officers before interrogating Apperson.

According to the city police Policy Manual, a written reprimand remains in an officer's file for one year.

If no other violations occur in that period, the card is removed from the officer's file. If, however, a subsequent reprimand is issued, the initial reprimand becomes a permanent part of the officer's record.

It is Knight's policy not to comment on pending internal matters.

tion agencies require the city to provide this and provide that, to do this and do that, all at a cost to the city. But (the state) shares in none of the cost."

Bellcote agreed and said the state has "gotten really bad about telling you to do this and do that, but not telling you where to get the money."

"I think it's really unfair for the state to tell you to do something, give you a deadline of one, two or three years and then leave it at that. Where are we going to get the money? We can't go back to the citizens and say we want more taxes, they're overtaxed now."

Municipal League lobbyist Roger Huebner said even though this fall's referendum is only advisory, if it passes by a large margin "legislators will be hard-pressed to ignore the people's will."

He said local governments are often unfairly blamed for increased property taxes that are caused by new responsibilities or costs imposed by state or federal laws.

For example, he said, local governments may work very hard to negotiate union contracts that keep salary increases in line only to have the Legislature boost pension benefits enough that property taxes get raised anyway.

Cruse and Bellcote said it has been hard to make the general public understand the problem and that, as a rule, the public doesn't get involved in opposition to a state mandate until providing funding has become a crisis situation.

"If the legislators feel so strongly about something that they need to force it on us, they should feel strongly enough about it to make some provisions for paying for it," Cruse said. "I think if the general public (could be) well informed about what is happening, the vote (for the referendum) would be unanimous."

Private citizens can't possibly keep track of all the laws being considered by the legislature, Cruse said.

But, Cruse said, if a law carried a note that a three-fifths majority is needed "because the local people are going to get stuck with the tab" it would get the attention of the people and, as a result, "you know darn well what consideration the legislators would give it then."

Huebner said the league has not been able to come up with exact figures on how much local governments pay as a result of unfunded state mandates.

"But the mandates are very taxing and broad, and it's not the big club but the thousands of little pokes that make it very difficult to come up with cost figures."

State hopes to uncork traffic bottlenecks at Edwardsville

The two main roadways that take thousands of cars in and out of Edwardsville daily will be doubled in width in time to handle a 50 percent increase in traffic predicted within 25 years. Illinois Department of Transportation officials have presented preliminary plans for doubling the lanes and improving parts of Illinois Highways 157 and 159 within the next seven or eight years.

"Traffic has almost doubled in the past six to 10 years at the south end (of 157 near Interstate 270)," said Kent Muskopf, an IDOT state program developer engineer.

"At the north end (near Edwardsville High School), it has increased 33 percent. The increased development and increased traffic on the road are quite drastic.

"When you get these kinds of volumes on two-lane roads, it gets pretty difficult. As volume increases, people can't travel."

He said the decision to build a four-lane roadway is based in part on soaring daily vehicle counts. IDOT counts found that average daily traffic ranges from 12,000 at the south end of Highway 157 to 17,300 where it intersects with Schwarz Street across from the high school.

Transportation officials predict those figures will jump by 50 percent by the year 2017.

To the east, traffic is even heavier on Highway

159. Where the highway intersects Center Grove Road, IDOT counted 23,600 vehicles per day last year.

The proposed widening of 159 would begin north of Center Grove Road and continue south through Glen Carbon and Collinsville.

The Hwy. 157 project would grade and widen 4.4 miles from the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville access road near Interstate 270 to Schwarz Street. Muskopf said several dangerous curves would be eliminated.

Muskopf said most of the 157 widening would be on the west side of the existing highway. The proposed roadway would be 82 feet wide to include four traffic lanes, a shared left-turn lane and 10-foot shoulders.

From University Drive, the new road would have a straight northward path, cutting through a hill near the old railroad viaduct and continuing toward the Edwardsville junior and senior high schools.

Esic Drive would be extended westward to meet the new road, and a sidewalk would be built from there to Schwarz Street.

Muskopf said there are no plans to add traffic lights or to increase the speed limit from 45 mph. He said IDOT officials hope to receive $11 million for the project in seven or eight years.

Fee deferment schedule at SIUE is announced

Mandatory insurance law working, Ryan says

Well past the midway point of its trial run, Illinois' mandatory insurance law has encouraged more than a million drivers to get coverage and keep it, Secretary of State George H. Ryan said.

After 2½ years of enforcement, just 6.9 percent of private passenger cars in Illinois were uninsured, compared with 17 percent when the law was passed. The law took effect Jan. 1, 1990.

Compliance is one of the topics now under review by the Mandatory Insurance Advisory Board, which Ryan formed earlier this year to resolve problems with the law and recommend improvements.

The law is scheduled to sunset on Dec. 31, 1993. "We kept the gains we made during that first year, even though there were concerns that drivers would let the policies lapse."

"It looks like we escaped a phenomenon seen in other states where the number of uninsured drivers jumped back up during the second year of enforcement."

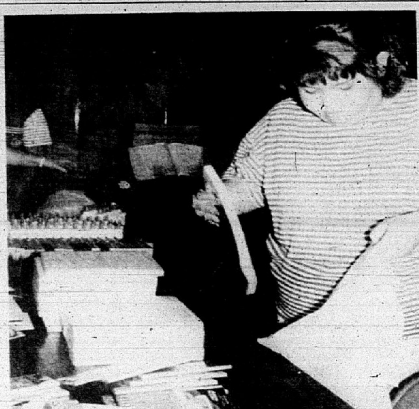

As of June 30, a total of 111,804 Illinois drivers had been convicted of violating mandatory insurance requirements. Another 79,815 drivers received court supervision.

The law requires all drivers to carry liability insurance at limits of $20,000 for the injury or death of one person; $40,000 for the injury or death of more than one person; and $15,000 for property damage.

Drivers also are required to carry proof of insurance when driving.

Those failing to comply could face a fine of $500 to $1,000 plus a two-month suspension of their vehicle registration. Proof of insurance and a $50 reinstatement fee are required for a suspension to be lifted.

Ryan's office measures compliance partly through random samples of vehicle owners. By the end of 1992, one of every 10 vehicles in the state will have been included in a random mailing.

Terry and the Facts-O-Life

Free concerts at Mitchell fair

The Mitchell Country Fair on Sept. 11-13 will sponsor several free concerts, including entertainment on Friday night, Sept. 11, by "Terry Kratky and the Facts-O-Life."

Terry and the Facts have been billed as one of the best lounge acts in the nation and have appeared in Las Vegas, Lake Tahoe, New York, St. Louis and the Illinois State Fair.

The show will start at about 6 p.m. and continue through the evening. All the Mitchell concerts will be open to the public and free of charge.

For more information, persons may call 931-4954.

Highway bridge projects planned

The Illinois Department of Transportation will receive bids Aug. 28 for three area highway bridge projects expected to cost a total of more than $2 million.

The projects and estimated costs are:

- Interstate 255 — $145,000 for beam repair over Ramp 1 and Roadway B north of the I-55/70 interchange at Collinsville.
- I-55/70 — $1.7 million for bridge rehabilitation, including widening and new decks over Wilson Avenue and removal of two existing structures over the abandoned Norfolk & Western railroad about 1.5 miles east of Illinois 159, northeast of Collinsville.
- I-TR-356 — $158,000 to construct a three-span bridge with approaches over Hickory Creek about four miles south of Brownstown.

SIUE co-op students increase earnings to over $1 million

One hundred forty-three students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville earned a total of more than $1 million last year while continuing in their studies.

Working at 31 companies, agencies and organizations, SIUE co-op students earned $1,008,635 — an increase of nearly $98,000 over 1991 — when 163 students working at 36 companies earned $910,884.

The students, who come from a variety of academic disciplines, are participants in the Professional Experience Program (PEP), a cooperative venture between area businesses and the university. The program gives students an opportunity to alternate between the workplace and the classroom, usually working for two consecutive terms and returning to the classroom for two terms.

Involvement in the PEP program takes co-op students slightly longer to obtain their degrees, but they are also able to earn salaries and gain invaluable work experience while they are in the process of getting an education. And quite often, the work arrangement leads to full-time employment for students after they graduate.

While PEP is housed in the SIUE School of Business, the co-op program serves the entire campus. Last year's participants included majors in engineering, computer science, accounting, management information systems, mathematics, finance, chemistry, speech communications, marketing, history and geography.

Companies and agencies in the St. Louis and southwestern Illinois area participating in the cooperative education program last year included: Alco Controls, American Medical Software, Anheuser-Busch, Atlantic Society, Basler Electric, Caterpillar Inc., Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Defense Contract Administration Services Management

Area (DCASMA), Defense Contract Management Region (DCMR), Farmers' Home Administration, Fleishman Hillard, Illinois Department of Transportation, Peal Marwick, McDonnell Douglas, Mercantile Bank, Monsanto, Olin Corp., Scott Air Force Base, Sigma Chemical Company, Social Security Administration, Union Electric, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Veterans Administration and many others.

Students and businesses interested in participating in the co-op program at SIUE may learn more about the arrangement by contacting Robert Schutzius at 692-3844.

Cholesterol guide offered

"Eating to Lower Your High Blood Cholesterol" is a best-selling U.S. government publication currently attracting wide praise.

It is believed that more than half of all adult Americans have dangerously high blood cholesterol levels. Many of these individuals are at great risk for coronary heart disease.

According to the book, simple steps can be taken to lower blood cholesterol level and reduce this risk to health.

The book is intended to "help you learn how to identify and eat foods that are low in saturated fats and cholesterol," a spokesman said.

Key concepts about blood cholesterol and its relationship to your diet are described in easy-to-understand terms.

Specific instructions for modifying eating patterns and for choosing, preparing and cooking low-saturated fat and cholesterol foods are given.

Eleven appendices provide cholesterol content comparisons for hundreds of individual food types in all the major food groups.

The book is a comprehensive guide to lowering your high blood cholesterol by taking control of what you eat. It is a must for those with high blood cholesterol who want to do something about it.

To order it, persons may send a check for $7.75 payable to: Federal Reprints, P.O. Box 70268, Washington, D.C. 20024.

Traffic fatalities in state decrease

Traffic fatalities for July totaled 123 as a result of 110 accidents, a decrease of 15.2 percent from the 145 deaths in July, 1991, according to provisional figures released by the Illinois Department of Transportation and State Police.

Included in the July totals were 24 pedestrians killed in 23 accidents, 14 persons killed in 14 accidents involving motorcycles and 1 pedal cyclist killed in 1 accident. No deaths were reported at railroad crossings.

The provisional total of 743 deaths for 1992 is a decrease of 10.8 percent from 833 deaths in 1991. The department's latest provisional figures indicate travel increased by 2.2 percent for the same time period.

David Thebeau

David M. Thebeau, 49, of Fairview Heights, formerly of Madison and Granite City, was pronounced dead at 9 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 23, 1992, at his residence. Death was attributed to a sudden heart attack.

Mr. Thebeau was born July 13, 1943, in Granite City and was a resident of Granite City and Madison for a total of 47 years.

He was the owner of two Ralph and Charlie's restaurants, one in Pontoon Beach and the other in St. Charles, Mo., and the Barney Stone put on Laclede's Landing in St. Louis. He also had owned the former Ralph and Charlie's restaurant in Madison.

He was active in the Laclede's Landing Merchants Association and was of the Catholic faith.

Survivors include his mother, Lois (Wortham) Thebeau of Granite City; one daughter, Annette Bokan of Fairview Heights; three brothers, Gerald Thebeau of University City, Mo., Donald Thebeau of St. Charles, Mo., and Edward Thebeau of St. Louis County; and one grandson.

Funeral services will be held from 3 to 8 p.m. today at Irwin Chapel, 3960 Maryville Road, Granite City, where funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday with the Rev. Robert DeGard officiating. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville.

Patrick Dunn

Patrick Vincell Dunn, 23, of Ventue was pronounced dead at 3:50 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 22, 1992, in his car at 2310 rear State Street, East St. Louis. A coroner's inquest is pending.

Mr. Dunn was born Sept. 23, 1968, in East St. Louis and was a lifelike resident of the Metro East area. He was employed as a bartender for the Robin's Nest Tavern, Ventue.

Survivors include his mother, Thelma Mason of Venice, a son, Royce Snoddy of Omaha, Neb., two sisters, Alecia Mason of Minneapolis and Valerie Mason of Venice; seven brothers, Roger Mason Jr. of Kansas City, Mo., both of St. Louis, Kevin Mason and Aaron Mason, both of Minneapolis; Tyronne Mason of the U.S. Marine Corps, Jacksonville, N.C.; Chancey Mason of Venice and Royce Mason of the U.S. Army, Fort Belvoir, Kansas; a stepbrother, Carolyn Gaines, and a stepbrother, Frederick Gaines, both of East St. Louis.

Funeral services will be held at noon Saturday, Aug. 29, at Officer Funeral Home Chapel, 2114 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis. Burial will be at Sunset Gardens of Memory Cemetery, Millstadt.

David Eastman

David A. Eastman, 31, of Granite City was pronounced dead at 7:38 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 23, 1992, at his apartment in the 2200 block of Missouri Avenue by Madison County Coroner Investigator Roger Smith.

Police are investigating the death; they said the body was severely decomposed. A 22-caliber rifle was discovered at the scene.

Mr. Eastman was born March 13, 1961. He had been a resident of Granite City for several years and was employed as a laborer at Seibold's Bake Shop. He was of the Protestant faith.

Survivors include his mother, Theda (Petree) Eastman of Savannah, Tenn.; one brother, Gene Eastman of Monroe, Mich.; and six sisters, Emily Willis and Gay Harville, both of Savannah, Gail McDonald of Council Bluffs, Iowa; and Sue Rogers of Fremont, Ind.

He was preceded in death by his father, Louis M. Eastman.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Irwin Chapel in Granite City, 931-8000.

Thebeau lent his assistance was the proposed Mid-America Aquacenter in Pontoon Beach.

Aquacenter President Leonard Sonnenschein had not yet heard the news Monday morning when a reporter informed him of Thebeau's death.

"I can't believe it. He was so strong. He was a good friend. This is a real shocker. I just can't believe it," Sonnenschein said.

"If it wasn't for Dave Thebeau, there would be no aquacenter."

Thebeau's mother, Lois, said Monday that Dave Thebeau was in perhaps the best frame of mind he had been in for a long time. She said he had returned about a week ago on a 28-day cruise in the South Pacific.

"He told me he did a lot of meditating, a lot of thinking about life," she said. "I told me he had grown much closer to God."

"He had a good life. He was able to do a lot of things he wanted to do. We'll miss him so much," Mrs. Thebeau said.

Bush brings campaign to Illinois State Fair

SPRINGFIELD — President George Bush brought his attack on the Democratic Congress to the Illinois State Fair on Sunday, urging the defeat of U.S. Rep. Richard Durbin, D-Springfield.

Bush touted the Congressional candidacy of Madison County Treasurer John Shimkus, who shared the stage with the president.

Comparing himself to Democratic President Harry Truman, who campaigned against a Republican-controlled Congress in 1948, Bush has made the Democratic-controlled legislative branch his chief target since the Republican National Convention last week.

"We've got to change that gridlock Congress and clean house," Bush said to the cheers of a partisan, enthusiastic crowd of about 5,000 that jammed the Coliseum at the state fairgrounds, a building normally used for livestock shows.

"I want John Shimkus to be elected from the 20th District," Bush said.

Referring to Durbin, the president said "the congressman from this district voted against us on Desert Storm and tried to bring legal papers against me. He voted against the balanced budget and I want John Shimkus to replace him."

Shimkus was also given a featured speaking role before Bush arrived at the rally.

The Collinsville resident attacked Durbin for the scandals in Congress involving the House bank and post office and reelected Durbin to the problem.

"I am the solution," Durbin took note of the lime-light Sunday night. "I guess it's a dubious honor to be the first congressman to be targeted by Bush in his campaign," Durbin said.

"I understand it because I have been a thorn in his side on this ethanol issue for months."

Durbin is lobbying to get the federal Environmental Protection Agency to allow ethanol to be used in motor vehicles in major metropolitan areas that have pollution problems, including Chicago.

Ethanol is made from corn, a major Illinois farm crop.

Durbin said he was "shocked" that Bush made no reference to ethanol in his address at the rally. "It is hard to believe the president would come to the state fair of the largest agriculture state in the Midwest and be afraid to mention the most important farm issue," he said.

Durbin also said he was not concerned about Bush's attack on the Desert Storm issue, which Shimkus had earlier emphasized in radio commercials.

"My opponent spent over $1,000 on those ads two weeks ago and I didn't receive a single call or letter about it," Durbin said. "People understand it was a vote of conscience."

Bush cut his previously scheduled 20-minute speech in half because of a longer than planned private meeting with Gov. Jim Edgar and others on the ethanol issue.

Most of his address at Springfield reiterated major points Bush made Thursday night at the Republican National Convention.

The president again promised to work for tax cuts if Congress agreed to cut spending. He talked about family values and took credit for ending the threat of nuclear war.

Those given tickets for the rally by state GOP officials began filing through metal detectors into the Coliseum about two hours before Bush's speech. Some waited for hours to get in, with one line stretching for nearly a mile down the fairgrounds.

End Gobble of Macomb didn't get into the rally but, to her surprise, ended up shaking hands with the president when he stopped by a food pavilion on the fairgrounds before the rally to order a pork sandwich.

Bush and his wife, Barbara, spent about 20 minutes on the fairgrounds and several times disregarded the admonitions of the Secret Service and waded into crowds to greet fairgoers.

While introducing Bush, Edgar noted that Democratic presidential nominee Gov. Bill Clinton had canceled a visit to the state fair on Thursday, sending his running mate, Sen. Al Gore, instead.

Edgar later said Bush's appearance so soon after the GOP convention showed the importance the president placed on winning Illinois on Nov. 3.

P becomes 'Sesame Street' sponsor

Illinois Power is expanding its educational outreach by becoming the sponsor of the award-winning children's show "Sesame Street" and helping underwrite a popular school programming library. Late this month, IP's Sesame Street sponsorship will be introduced by an animated character known as "Donnie." The little boy will shuffle tentatively down dark hallway to light up the beginning of each Sesame Street segment. He'll appear at the end of each segment to credit Illinois Power with a grant that underwrites the program.

Sesame Street, produced by the Children's Television Workshop, went on the air in 1968. The program introduced Bert and Ernie, Big Bird, Cookie Monster and other denizens of Sesame Street known to millions of children worldwide.

"Far from electronic baby sitting, children who are barely old enough to toddle can learn basic concepts from these characters that many of us grew up with," said Rodney Smith, Illinois Power's vice president for public affairs.

In July, IP began sponsoring Sesame Street on Champaign's WLL-TV12 and became a co-sponsor on St. Louis' KETC-TV (Channel 9), which serves Southern Illinois, a few weeks later IP has sponsored Sesame Street on Peoria's WTVP-TV (Channel 7) in Northern Illinois for more than 20 years.

Annual sponsorship of more than 3,000 hours of the program costs about $60,000. The sponsorship is part of IP's ongoing program of community philanthropy and support of education.

Illinois Power also has agreed to underwrite part of WLL-TV12's Learning Technology Services for the 1992-93 school year. Illinois Power's contribution, about $7,500, will cover a funding shortfall that threatened program cutbacks.

The service provides 190 videotaped lessons worth an estimated $170,000 to about 6,000 teachers in 225 Central Illinois schools. The schools pay an average fee of about $350 a year to use the library.

Illinois Power sponsors other programs on WLL-TV, as well as National Public Radio's evening news program, "All Things Considered," on WLL radio, AM-580 and FM-90.9, and WSSU radio, FM-91.9.

'Cook of Week' cookbook shares readers' favorites

The Suburban Journals, after sharing their Cook of the Week's recipes for the last year, have compiled a selection of them from all the newspapers in the "Cook of the Week Cookbook." Recipes present an array of about 150 appetizers and snacks; main dishes of seafood and meatless, beef and pork, chicken and turkey, salads and other super side dishes, and a large assortment of cookies, cakes, pies and other desserts.

These are recipes that have been tested in the best kitchens — those of our readers — and shared for everyone's enjoyment. Now some of the most interesting recipes that will appeal to cooks of every proficiency can be tried in the homes of the entire St. Louis area.

The book will be available in time for the St. Louis County Fair Sept. 25 to 27. Orders are being taken by mail for $5 each, plus $1.50 postage. Like other fair events, proceeds will benefit the Children's Miracle Network.

Recipe

Cold yogurt

Vichyssoise

- 2 cups peeled, sliced potato
- 2 cups sliced white leeks or yellow onion
- 1 carrot, sliced
- 1 qt. chicken broth
- 3 cups plain yogurt
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Chopped fresh parsley or chives, if desired

In large saucepan, combine potato, onion, carrot and broth. Simmer about 45 minutes until vegetables are tender. Puree in blender or food processor.

Add yogurt. Blend. Season with salt and pepper. Chill.

Garnish with chopped parsley or chives.

Makes about 6 servings.

German Chocolate Upside-Down Cake
By Mary Merz
1 cup coconut

1 cup chopped pecans
1 pkg. German chocolate cake mix
Mix first two ingredients and put into greased 9 x 13 pan. Mix the German chocolate cake according to directions on package and pour over top of coconut pecan mixture.

In saucepan put 1 stick margarine and 1 (8 oz.) pkg. softened cream cheese. Heat until mixture is warm enough to stir in 1 lb. box of confectioners sugar. Spoon over top of cake mix.

Bake at 350 degrees 35 to 40 minutes. Do not cut until cool.

Betty King's Italian Cake
By Pat Polley
5 large eggs
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup vegetable shortening
2 cups granulated sugar

HOME & GARDEN

Time to get evergreens ready for winter season

Ready to do a little lifting? Evergreens can be planted or replanted now to ensure good timing before winter arrives. Be sure to water both the plant and planting site several days after moving.

Pinch the growing tips of shrubs once adequate fruit set is achieved. This directs energy to ripening fruits, rather than to production.

Prune up branches of fruit trees that are threatening to break under the weight of a heavy crop.

Dormant lawns should be mowed now to encourage strong fall growth. Lawns scheduled for renovation this fall should be mowed with Roundup now.

If you treated your lawn for white grubs earlier this month, now is the time to verify that the grubs are under control.

Fall is the time for webworm activity, often on fruit and nut trees. This injury seldom requires sprays and the only control necessary is to prune and destroy the affected branch when the tents are small.

Just because summer is ending doesn't mean your gardening has to stop. It's time to clean out your cold frames for use in the fall. Planting fall salad greens in the protected environment of a cold frame is a great way to extend the harvest season after the arrival of frosty weather.

The Missouri Botanical Garden's Kemper Center for Home Gardening is open daily 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Each month there is a new and beautiful gardening display to give ideas and inspiration. Visit the Plant Doctor, see new tools and techniques for growing plants at home and learn more from our extensive gardening library. Meet with the Master Gardeners to chat about gardening questions.

rip features only U.S. palace on-Hawaiian island residents the day thought Iolani (Royal Palace) was a frivolous site of money.

gun in 1879 under the orders of King Kamehameha, the only royal palace in the U.S. was completed in December 1882, at the cost $350,000.

It was the first electrified building in Honolulu. Its glass and ironwork was imported from San Francisco and its Corinthian columns reflected Mediterranean style.

Across the way stands the statue of King Kamehameha, a symbol of his strength as a ruler and unifier of the Hawaiian islands.

Its black and gold colors are striking, but it is most magnificent on June 11, King Kamehameha Day, (see photo) when 18 foot leis are draped around the neck and outstretched arms.

Behind Kamehameha stands Aliolani Hale, the State Judiciary Building. This handsome structure, begun in 1872, was originally commissioned by Kamehameha V as a palace, but was designed as a general court building.

It looks much more grand than the Iolani Palace across the way.

The history, traditions and culture of Honolulu and four major Hawaiian Islands awaits members of the Journals' 1993 Grand Hawaii Tour.

Comprehensive sightseeing combined with exciting evening entertainments and ample free time to relax and enjoy individual activities make for one of the best Hawaiian itineraries available.

The Journals Grand Tour features, only the best hotels, fine meals and a host of other services. All readers are invited to travel to Hawaii with the Journals this winter.

For information on the Grand Hawaii Tour and the Journals Grand Tours to Alaska, Europe and New England's Fall Foliage contact Tenholder Travel at 800-333-5910 in St. Louis.

Nameoki Democrats organize

The Nameoki Township Democratic Committee have been meeting regularly and staying busy since the primary election. One of their most productive accomplishments is the creation of bylaws for the organization. The group adopted the official title of The Nameoki Township Democratic Committee.

The organization has committed itself to strengthen the Democratic Party and organization through a variety of categories such as: regular bi-monthly meetings, voter registration drives, the adoption of bylaws, election educational sessions, fund raising committees and publicity committees.

The officers and committee chairmen are: Ken Davis, chairman, Madison County Central Committee; all committees; Judy K. Merritt, vice chairman, Madison County Central Committee; Bylaws Committee; Voter Registration Committee and Publicity Committee.

Steve, Iserburg, secretary/treasurer, Madison County Central Committee; Ron Briggs, Fall Fest Chairman, Bylaws Committee; Bill Ellis, Bylaws Committee; Kerry Ervay, Fall Fest Committee; Voters Registration Committee; Joe Garcia, Bylaws Committee; Helen Hawkins, Voters Registration Committee; Madison County Central Committee; Betty Johnson, Publicity Committee; Carl Macios, Jim Noeth, Bylaws Committee; Treasurer for Madison County Central Executive Committee; Charlie Reed, Voter Registration Committee; Madison County Central Committee.

Due to the retirement of the Rollins Club House, the annual Fall Fest Fund Raiser will be held this year at Smokey Joes on Highway 111, in Pontoon Beach. A $10 donation will entitle everyone to a full barbecue meal, plenty to drink, attendance prizes, games, music, etc.

All national, state and local elected officials will be introduced at 4 p.m. The days activities will be from 1 to 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 29. The public is encouraged to attend and visit with their elected representatives.

For further information or ticket purchases, call Judy K. Merritt at 931-3668 or contact any of the other township committees.

Recipes

1 tsp. baking soda
1 cup buttermilk
2 cups flour — sifted 2 times
1 cup coconut
1 cup chopped nuts
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1 tsp. coconut flavoring
Cream Cheese Icing
1 pkg. cream cheese
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 box confectioners sugar
1 tsp. almond extract
Separate eggs and beat whites until stiff and set aside. Cream butter, shortening and sugar. Add egg yolks (one at a time), beating well after each. Dissolve soda in buttermilk; add alternately with flour, beat well. Add coconut, nuts and extracts. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into 3 greased and floured inch. cake pans, using 2 cups per pan.
Bake at 350 degree oven for 25 minutes. Cool completely then frost.
Combine icing ingredients and beat well. Spread between layers and on top. Refrigerate.

Summer dean's list at WIU

277 undergraduate students at Western Illinois University have been named to the dean's list for their scholastic achievements during the 1992 summer semester.

Area students include: Victoria Becker of Granite City; Jeffrey Lynn Foster and Jennifer M. McMahon, both of Troy; and Douglas Eugene Boier of O'Fallon.

Students are honored for compiling a semester grade-point average of at least 3.5 on a scale of 4.0.

They must attempt at least six semester hours for letter grades to be eligible. Pass/fail hours are not counted in the compilation as hours attempted.

RCIA to begin

Rule of Christian Initiation of Adults will begin at 7 p.m. on Sept. 10, at Holy Family Catholic Church, 26th Street and Washington Avenue.

This program explains the Catholic faith, and if participants choose, welcomes you to the church.

Weekly gatherings give in-depth information about the Catholic faith.

Father Tom Wise and the RCIA team invites everyone with any interest in Catholicism to join the group to have their questions answered and to learn more about Christianity.

Those interested may call Father Wise at 877-7158 or 452-8244 or stop by the Community Center behind the church at 7 p.m. on Sept. 10.

Road rules course

Secretary of State George H. Ryan in cooperation with the Granite City Council of Senior Citizens is offering a Rules of the Road review course Aug. 28 for all citizens in the Granite City area. The course is free to everyone, any age, who wishes to attend.

The two-hour course is designed to answer questions about the Rules of the Road and to assist participants in preparing for examination. Topics include written, vision and road tests.

The Rules of the Road course will be taught from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Friday, Aug. 28, at the Granite City Township Building, 2060 Delmar Ave.

For more information, the number is 877-4373.

OH MY ACHING CORNS!

A phrase so commonly used by those suffering needlessly from painful corns. Although turning them affords temporary relief, within 1-2 months regrowth of the corn occurs along with the pain and discomfort. The recurrence is due to the underlying calcium deposit causing excessive pressure where the skin responds by building up that corn tissue. In almost all instances the corn can be permanently removed by an in office procedure requiring little or no time off work. There is no need to suffer any longer. Rebuilt kickers look to climb back to top

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

The moment is frozen in time like a bad dream that can't be forgotten.

The Warrior soccer team's 1991 season came to a sudden and crushing ending shortly after 9:30 p.m. on the evening of Nov. 4. Former Warrior Matt Chandler swooped in for a rebound of Steve Van Dyke's shot before Tim Henson could locate it and buried the Warriors in sudden death overtime of the sectional final in Collinsville.

The Kahoks went on to a state title and the Warriors were left at home wondering what it would have been like to win a third straight state crown.

"In all fairness, last season could have been considered a rebuilding year for us," said coach Gene Baker. "We had five freshmen who played quite a bit at the varsity level. They all deserved to play, but it's unusual for us to have that many freshmen."

Baker

Still, the 1991 Warriors might have been one break away from winning their 11th state title. They certainly had glorious chances to win the Collinsville game. After that, the Kahoks cruised to the championship with only one more difficult test.

But that was then. This is now. Those five freshmen — Corey Kessler, John Nizinski, Paulie Bucherich, Matt Little and Shawn Petroski — will be even better as sophomores. Seniors Jason Maxfield and Brent Dippel have the ability to dominate games, and senior J.B. Anderson certainly has the potential to step forward as a star.

"The numbers are better this year," said Baker. "We're really not even thinking about a starting 11. I really believe we have 22 or even 25 guys who could start at one time or another. We've been close to that in some other seasons, but never quite like this."

Maxfield and Dippel should be the team leaders. Along with junior goalie David Kasproovich, they are the captains. Both of the two senior captains have been with the varsity since they were freshmen in 1989. They have each played with two state championship teams and would like to be on a third.

Maxfield was all-state and all-midwest as a junior last year. He spent much of the season in the backfield and settled for three goals and four assists. One of the fastest players in the area, Maxfield will almost certainly improve on those totals.

"We sure want to play him up front more as a senior," said Baker. "Jason has intimidating speed."

While Maxfield supplies the speed, Dippel can supply the power. He's 6-2, 200 pounds. He led the team with 10 goals a year ago. His work ethic is questioned at times by fans, but he seems set for a big senior year.

"Brent can be as good as he wants to be," said Baker. "A lot of that question about his hustle comes from him being such a big kid. He was so much bigger than others his age that he was always expected to dominate."

The offense could also be rounded out quite well by Anderson, Petroski and junior Brian Kohler.

"J.B. is loaded with talent," said Baker. "He can do some great things with the ball. Petroski has been our best one-on-one player in practice, and Kohler can really shoot the ball."

Kohler, in fact, came as close as any Warrior did to scoring in three games against Collinsville last year. He appeared to have the regular-season game at The Gauntlet won late in regulation play, but goalie Mike Bolandis made a tremendous save.

In goal, Kasproovich replaces Henson, a two-time all-stater.

"Playing behind Timmy didn't hurt David at all," said Baker. "He's very intelligent and has worked to get stronger. He gives you what you ask for. Cory Cooper (senior transfer from Collinsville) will see some time in the nets and give teams a different look with his height (6-2)."

Also over from Collinsville is senior back Josh Jenkins.

"They both moved over here early in the summer, and Josh in particular will be a very fine addition," said Baker. "He will really add some stability in the backfield. (Senior) Dan Clark is another very solid back."

Clark scored the Warriors' last goal of the season, the only goal in a 1-0 sectional semifinal win over Highland on a bone-chilling afternoon in Collinsville.

"We can give teams a left-footed dimension that can really help on that side of the field," said Baker. "Jenkins, Jared Raftery, Bucherich and Jamey Bridges are all very good with the left foot."

Raftery is a junior transfer from Delaware. He played his freshman year at CBC, and came to Baker's summer camp for many years before spending his sophomore season out east, where his team won a state title.

Other seniors to watch include Jason Starko, David Partney and Ben Hicks.

"Starko and Partney have been the two most improved players so far," said Baker. "Ben can really hit the ball and, along with Dippel, gives us some size so we can go get the ball in the air."

That's not even mentioning Kessler, Nizinski and Little, who along with Bucherich and Petroski formed a "fab five" of freshmen in 1991, similar to the five freshmen who led the University of Michigan basketball team last season.

But like the Wolverines, the Warriors fell just a little short of their ultimate goal.

Baker begins the 1992 season, his 20th at Granite City and 25th overall, with a 446-93-37 record. That includes a 382-73-37 record with the Warriors.

Warrior gridders greener in 1992

By Dave Whaley

The faces are different. Things certainly will be a little different. But it is hoped by one and all that certain things stay the same.

That's the attitude to be taken for the 1992 Warrior football team. Tom Wyrostek is gone as head coach, replaced by Don Harris. Also gone are most of the starters from the 1991 Warriors, who were one of Granite City's best football teams ever.

The coolly efficient Warriors methodically struck down eight opponents in nine tries during the regular season. Unfortunately, they were paired against the most efficient prep football program in the first round of the playoffs. The East St. Louis Flyers, who had to struggle past the Warriors in conference play, adjusted and had a relatively easy time of it at Memorial Stadium (26-6) in the first round of the Illinois Class 6A playoffs.

One might be tempted to say the Warriors took their shot last year with a senior-dominated lineup. As far as varsity experience goes this year, it's not even close. But Harris isn't too worried.

"We've coached this group of kids before," said Harris. "We know what to expect out of them in a lot of ways. Not many of them got a lot of playing experience last year. But being on that team was helpful to them. They had to go against that group of seniors in practice everyday. It can't hurt going against guys in practice who were the best in the conference in many cases."

Returning starters from a year ago? Seniors Jeff Luffman, Pat Jessee and John Tinnon. A few others played a little, but that's about it.

"We could use more time," said Harris, who makes his head coaching debut a week from Friday at home against Cahokia. "I really haven't heard that much around town from people who have big expectations based on last year. This is a different group of kids."

The players have only been in contact drills for a few days, so most jobs were still up for grabs at press time. But senior Les Nunes (5-9, 150) will be the quarterback.

"Les can throw the ball and run with it," said Harris. "We really didn't miss a beat on those occasions when he came in last year. He threw our halfback option passes when that was called for. We just need to push him to show a little more vocal leadership, but he'll be fine. He's a great athlete."

Half of Trojan roster to be filled with freshmen

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

Mark Giles is full of optimism for the upcoming football season.

Some may find that hard to believe when you consider the Madison Trojans (27 last season) have only won three games the last two years. But Giles, beginning his second year as head coach, is convinced his program is ready to turn the corner.

"We've got some talent on this team," he said. "There's also a workmanlike attitude in the kids. It's something you wouldn't expect from a program that's developed a losing attitude in recent years, but this bunch seems determined to change all that."

The Trojans feature a youthful look in 1992. They only have six seniors, six juniors and four sophomores on the squad. The rest are all freshmen.

"We'll carry about 30 kids once school starts," Giles said. "That's a pretty good number for us."

The key, though, will be keeping his players academically eligible. Grade problems depleted the lineup last year.

"The coaching staff and our principal (Robert L. Mehlich) are working on a project to keep these kids on top of their school work," Giles said. "I would hold a study hall period for all the athletes. This will give them a chance to do their homework."

"If they have any questions, they can contact their teachers and go over the problem. I'm confident this solution will work. We can't afford to lose anyone, especially our top players. That killed us last year."

Senior running back James Wellmaker (5-10, 185 pounds) was plagued by grade problems last season and only played one game.

"If James would have played the entire season, we could have won a few more games," Giles said. "He would have made a difference. He's an intelligent player I'm counting on heavily."

Giles expects Wellmaker to make up for last year this season. He'll be joined in the backfield by senior running back William Russell (6-1, 190) and senior quarterback Orlando Porter (5-11, 180).

"Orlando gives us a lot of experience back there," Giles said. "We've gone with sophomores the last two years, but they weren't mature enough to handle the position. Orlando knows what to do. He played a number of positions for us last season; he's versatile and intelligent."

The offensive line features senior Derrick Hall (5-11, 240) at tackle, juniors Andre Brown (5-8, 175), Jason Middleton (5-9, 200) and Alvin Bloodworth (5-8, 190), and senior Harvey Lemor (5-9, 190).

"We have a lot of positions up for grabs," Giles said. "But these are our strongest candidates. I would call this our most experienced line in a while."

Most of those people will go both ways, which means the Trojans aren't very deep.

"Especially on the line of scrimmage," Giles said. "We're lean on both sides of the line. But skill-wise, we'll be OK. We've got outstanding speed and some good athletes. Now, it's just a matter of believing in ourselves."

But the Trojans are hungry. The Trojans open the season at Waterloo on Sept. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Small steps for GC spikers could lead to bigger ones

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

Slowly but surely, volleyball is taking hold in the Granite City community.

Cindy Gagich hopes it continues, but she and the high school team she coaches could help it along with a successful season. The Lady Warriors open the season at home Sept. 9 against Edwardsville.

"We're taking some small steps which I hope lead to bigger ones," said Gagich, who was 8-14 in her first season at GCHS in 1991. "We had a dozen kids come to our junior high camp this summer and we're working on developing the junior high programs further. I'm glad the park district took some initiative and set up the sand volleyball court at Worthen Park. And the student council has a league out at the YMCA."

It is hoped that it all pays off for the high school program. The eight wins last year were more than the two previous years combined. The Lady Warriors return enough experience, size and talent to improve on that.

Leading the way are seniors Stephanie Kult, Amy Krakowiecki, Staci Johnson and JoAnn Gray. Junior letterwinners are Kami Kessel and Jamie Cavaness. Other juniors are Jessica Thomas, Lisa Buske and Lori Harris.

Gagich

"All four of the seniors should play a great deal," said Gagich. "Stephanie and Amy are probably our best all-around players. I doubt they will come off the court too often."

Stephanie gives us some quickness to go with her size at the net and Amy can give us some power."

At 6-1, Cavaness can also be a presence at the net. Gray, Kessel, Harris and Buske are setters, while Johnson is the team's best server.

"Staci is very good with a floater, which is like a knuckleball," said Gagich. "She can place it very well. Her serving had a big impact on one of our wins over Collinsville last year. Thomas can be a very good player once she figures out her strong points."

Gagich had 35 players come out the first week of practice, compared with 49 a year ago. The dropoff is actually a good sign, according to the coach.

"Word gets around about the work we do," she said. "Having fewer players out means there are some who decided they didn't want to do the necessary work. So I feel the ones we have here are dedicated to doing what it takes to be successful."

Gagich isn't used to not being successful, having come from a consistent winner at Freeburg High School. The 8-14 record was an improvement for the Lady Warriors, but Gagich wants even more improvement.

"With the number of three-game matches we had last year, I feel we can improve enough to go .500," she said. "We'll try to build momentum as the season goes. The offense will get more complex each match."

Granite City is in the McCluer North Tournament this year as well as the Collinsville Invitational. Gagich would eventually like to compete in the maximum of four in-season tournaments.

"You can play as many as five matches in a tournament," she said. "So the more you get into the more experience you'll pick up. Maybe Granite City can even host one someday."

The fundamentals are very good here. The coaches from ISU who worked at our camp were very impressed with that. The open gym in the summer also had good participation."

Chappell pleased with returning golfers

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

Russ Chappell is entering his 18th season as a golf coach, so it's safe to say he has seen his fair share of outstanding individual players and teams.

But Chappell, who is not one to pull punches, said he believes the 1992 edition of the Warrior golf team is the best returning group he's seen yet.

Chappell

"As a group numbers-wise, they're as good as I've seen," Chappell said. "We've had some good individuals, but nothing like this group. These kids have hung on and have worked hard."

Granite City returns seven seniors from last year's Southwestern Conference championship team. They tasted success with a regular-season mark of 18-2-2. But the season ended with disappointment.

At the Wood River Regional, the Warriors shot 36 strokes worse than they did at the Legacy, where they won the conference crown. Three teams advance out of the regional and Granite City finished fourth. That loss does not prey on their minds, but it does provide some motivation.

"We don't dwell on the negatives," Chappell said. "It all boils down to a one-day season for advancement to state. We still mention it from time to time, and they know that they're working for that one day."

"On their cards it says

Advance to sectional and on to state," so they know what they need to do. They realize this isn't an easy game for the faint of heart. They're going to do the best they can every time they tee it up.

The Warriors lose only two players to graduation. Joe Brewer and Bart Alsop have since gone on to college, but there are more than enough players ready to take their places.

Harriers search for depth after top three

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

Warrior cross country coach Dave McClain acknowledges that this will be a lean year for his team, but he is hopeful his top three runners will find success.

There has been a turnover in talent for the cross country program since it peaked in 1990, when the team finished no lower than sixth in any meet.

One of the surprises of the 1990 season was Brian Reed, who is being counted on as a leader of this year's team as a senior.

"Brian could have a real good season," said McClain. "He was hurt last year and he wasn't ready coming in. But this season he's more prepared and has a better attitude towards running. He's always been a strong competitor and he'll give us everything he has."

Another senior who McClain believes could improve from last year is Jason Blomme. Blomme practically came out of nowhere to be the team's most improved runner last season. He should figure into one of the top three spots.

"Blomme is ready to run," said assistant coach Tom Haefner. "He's looking forward to being a strong runner. I think he'll be our No. 1 runner and that's what he wants to be."

Junior Shawn Lewis will likely be the other member of the trio after he recuperates from a hip injury. Lewis was one of the top milers for the track team last spring and showed he could compete at the cross country level last season.

"Lewis is a sleeper," said McClain. "He has a chance to be a premier runner. He has the best running style of anyone on the team. He is smooth out there."

After the top three, it's anyone's guess as to who will fill the No. 4 and No. 5 spots, which are usually the most critical in a meet. Even with a strong threesome to anchor the team, a large discrepancy between times makes for a low finish.

"You can't do it with three kids and have them carry everyone else," said Haefner. "We have a large gap between our (See RUN, Page 9D)

New coach happy to be home; looking to improve on netters

By Rob Raphael
Correspondent

Laura Chappell was never happier to get home.

Chappell, a Granite City native, was all smiles on her first day as the Lady Warrior tennis coach last week. But it wasn't easy for her to keep her pleasant demeanor. An avid scuba diver, Chappell was returning from a trip to the Florida Keys when she became ill in Nashville, Tenn.

"I think it was some Florida shrimp," she said.

Laura Chappell made it bright and early to the first practice session. What she saw was 27 girls trying out for the varsity squad. That will be cut to 12 before the season opener against Triad at home on Sept. 1.

The Lady Warriors suffered through a tough 1991 campaign. For the first time in five years, no player reached the state tournament, and the team finished fifth in sectional competition.

Chappell, who replaces Allen Lobdell as coach, is far from being new to the high school tennis scene. She enjoyed success at St. Joseph (Mo.) High School. She coached there for two years, with her team finishing second in the sectional both times. One of her players, Joan Heckman, won the state title one year and finished fifth the next.

Chappell is hoping to find some of that same success in Granite City, and she's excited about taking the reins.

"I have played and coached tennis and these kids know me as a teacher," she said. "We are building a team here, so the girls must gain something before they leave. I want to see personal improvement in each player.

"It's tough to get ready in such a short time. I'm coming in cold-turkey, so everyone will get an equal chance."

Chappell, 29, is counting on a large group of returning seniors and an injection of youth to provide the talent necessary to compete.

"A meet kids up," said learning event.

"We're not ers," said M. meets won't be.

A good sign. Haefner is a program has picked. They will field a team thing which previously. Some out to do come next track season.

"We're going instead of just three," said ing five for has been dish.

Leading the likely be sophomore. She senior Leslie Jeanine McMillan and Nicky Szmores Suzan phanie Doughty.

Forty-three golfers tried out for the team — 12 more than last year's turnout. The seven seniors are anchored by Gabe Mitchell, Steve Rains and Jon Duft. Chappell says Duft has the potential to be one of the top players in the area.

"Duft was great last year and that was just his first year out," Chappell said. "I think he can be one of the best. Gabe is as steady as the day and night. I'm hoping Rains can come back around from last year."

The other four seniors are P.J. Hamilton, Don Haddox, Jim Clutts and Steve McAllister. They'll be pushed by returning juniors Josh McClelland and Matt Ruder. Chappell also feels he has a strong group of sophomores waiting in the wings. They are led by Ken Felty, who saw varsity action as a freshman last year. Greg Bixler, John Green, Dan Petersen, Ryan Szymarek and Keith Simon are some of the other sophomores whom Chappell said could see some time.

"It's still very early to tell who's staying and who's leaving," Chappell said. "To stay below 40 is hard work. We have some kids who can break 40 all the time. That's where the work comes in. It's hard to stay that consistent, but we have the people to do it."

The Warriors will again be gunning for Belleville East and Edwardsville to claim the top spot in the area. Those three teams will be among the favorites when the regional is played at Arlington Golf Course on Oct. 6.

"We should be right up there with them again, I think," Chappell said. "I wouldn't be afraid to say that we have a good chance to beat them."

Granite City opens their season at home tomorrow against Civic Memorial and Triad. On Saturday, they travel to Quincy for a tournament, which is a new addition to the schedule. The 17th annual Granite City Scramble is slated for Sept. 12 at Arlington.

"If we can go up to Quincy and be close to 400 as a team, I'll be tickled to death," said Chappell. "It will be a good measuring stick for us."

fourth and fifth runners."

Likely candidates to round out the top five will be seniors David Taylor and Steve Lubak, juniors Ernie Miller and Aaron Jackstadt, sophomore Ryan Pinrod and freshman Shawn Yount.

"Our top three will be competitive, but whether we have two or three who can run with Blomme, Reed and Lewis, we don't know," said McClain. "You need five who can run together."

They will quickly find out what they're matched up against when Granite City hosts its annual invitational Sept. 5. Many of the top teams in the metro area will be on hand.

"A meet like that wakes the kids up," said Haefner. "It's a learning event."

"We're notorious slow starters," said McClain. "The first meets won't be indicative."

A good sign for McClain and Haefner is that the girls program has picked up some interest. They will have enough to field a team this year, something which was hard to do previously. Some of the girls are out to do conditioning work for next track season.

"We're going to have a team instead of just having two or three," said McClain. "Not having five for a team in the past has been disheartening."

Leading the way will most likely be sophomore Holly Farnsworth. She'll be joined by senior Leslie Laycock, juniors Jeanne McMillan, Casey Krinski and Nicky Sponsler, and sophomores Suzanne Hart and Stephanie Douglas.

The list of seniors includes Tara Wyatt, who is recovering from off-season arm surgery. Wyatt saw action at both singles and doubles last season.

"She looks good and she says she feels good. At least she hasn't complained," said Chappell.

Also looking to give the team a boost is senior Dana Dresch. Dresch played volleyball the past three years before switching over to tennis.

"She only played tennis over the summer, but she has some basic tools," said Chappell.

Other seniors to watch are Amanda Gudac, Michelle Langsdorf, Jodi Forister and Christi Trotter. The juniors are led by Nicole Zelenka.

Freshman Marcy Holsinger may be the leader of the youth brigade, and has a good chance to make the varsity her first year. Chappell said it is difficult to decide who will be better suited for doubles and singles matches, and that she hasn't made any decisions on that yet. Chappell added that the schedule is tough, especially in the Southwestern Conference.

"All three Belleville teams will be good, as well as Edwardsville. Collinsville will also be tough if they didn't lose too many seniors," she said.

The Lady Warriors will play in the Civic Memorial Tournament on Sept. 26 and the SWC tourney in Alton on Oct. 10.

"I would hope that we could win at least two matches (out of seven) against each opponent right now," Chappell said. "By the end of the year we should be up to three or four."

"I can't say that we will have a super record, but as long as hard, they will be successful in the girls try hard and work my eyes."

GINGERBREAD WALK

It happened in Belleville a long time ago when a farmer came to town. He sold all his produce, bought some goods, then did a quick look around. Thirsty and tired and hungry besides he inquired "Where's a good place to eat?" The townspeople sighed and slowly replied, "There's a great spot right there off Main Street." The farmer strolled on to the saloon and bakery of the Swabian baker and wife. Who gave him a taste of something so great he remembered it the rest of his life. You might think it was the beer he fondly recalls which went immediately to his head. But the thing he remembered a long as he lived was the big piece of sweet gingerbread.

Slowly but surely taking hold in the community.

Cindy Gagich has a few, but she and her team she coaches along with a son at home. The Lady Warriors son at home. Edwardsville.

"We're taking steps which I hope ones," said Gagich in her first season 1991. "We had a summer and we developing the programs further. I district took some set up the sand at Worthen Park. The district council has the YMCA."

It is hoped that for the high school eight wins last year than the two combined. The return enough of talent to improve.

Leading the team Stephanie Kuhl, Jackie Staci Johnson, Gray, Junior LeKani Kessel, and Thomas, Lisa Harris.

Gagich us some quick size at the net us some power. At 6-1, Cavanaugh's presence at the net, Harris and ters, while Johnson best server.

"Staci is very floater, which is ball," said Gagich. "She place it very well had a big impact wins over Colli Thomas can play once strong points."

Gagich had out the first compared with The dropoff is sign, according "Word gets work we do," fewer players are some who didn't want to work. So I feel here are dedicated it takes to be.

backfield will be Luffman (5-10, 190), junior Ron Fisher (5-7, 170), junior Chris Kult (5-10, 160) at halfback and junior Shawn Shrum (6-0, 220) or senior Matt Lour (5-11, 180) at fullback.

Kult could also be one of the receivers along with senior Bobby Wilson (5-11, 151) and junior Jeff Ridenour (6-2, 155).

"Jeff was timed consistently at 4.7 in the 40," said Harris. "But the other guys were under 5.0."

But for all the accolades picked up by Drake Marshall, Mike Vaughn, Damon Yates, Larry Curry and others in the backfield in 1991, it was the offensive line that made the Warriors go. They put on a clinic in keeping the ball away from SLUH in a 23-7 win over one of Missouri's best teams.

Jessee (6-2, 200) is the only returning starter from that group. He will be joined at tackle by senior Eric Miner (6-3, 191). The guards figure to be senior Brian Cave (5-8, 170) and junior Nathan Owen (5-9, 178). The center will be either junior Brian Koberna (5-9, 160) or senior Bobby Morgan (5-11, 176). Curry could become the tight end, or the job could go to junior Jason Yarber (6-2, 191).

"That offensive line (Chris Hoffstot, Jeff and Jerry Heuschman, and Larry Earney along with Jessee) is a tough act to follow," said Harris. "We didn't have a lot of size, but there was a lot of quickness. And this group looks like it has quickness. We've been able to run a couple of plays in practice that I didn't think we could."

Defensively, the coaches are still guessing. Tinnon, the only returning starter on the line, sprained his ankle last Thursday and had to sit out a while. Any of the offensive linemen could see time on the defensive line. Linebacker candidates include Shrum, Curry, Zach Boyer (6-0, 162) and Lour on the inside, with Jeremy Wyatt and Koberna on the outside.

At cornerback, Ridenour, Fisher, Kult, Wilson and senior Mike Speer (5-10, 165) will all get a chance. Nunes and Ridenour are the top candidates at safety.

"We're still looking for players," said Harris. "We scrimmaged Saturday, and that will help the coaches learn a lot."

Fisher, Ridenour and Nunes figure to compete for the kicking jobs. Harris wouldn't mind seeing Nunes win that competition.

"I like having my quarterback doing the kicking," he said. "The other team has to honor the possibility of a fake. I punted my senior year, and I wasn't so sure I was the best punter on the team. But we ran some plays out of punt formation and they worked."

The schedule is the same as last year, with only the sites changed. That means the only home conference game is Oct. 2 against East St. Louis.

"There will be some teams looking for revenge this year," said Harris. "I'm sure SLUH will really be looking for us."
